All of our previous issues and specials are there to be enjoyed too!

Sliced Quarterly is an experimental comic anthology. We give a home to stories that want to push the boundaries of the comic book narrative. We publish 'slice of life' stories told in extraordinary ways.

Issue #10 of Sliced Quarterly heralds the beginning of the end of the current run. We will publish up to issue #12 and then produce a third print collection next year before pausing to take stock of what we would like to do next. Until then we continue to showcase unique comics from fresh and distinct voices in the small press scene, not just in the UK, but from around the world.

This collection contains: A treatise on Crumb, a heartbreaking silent comic, dealing with growing up, relationship meanderings and an onomatopoeic treat.

Our talented contributors: Jenny Brown, Adam Kindred, Eve, Matt MacFarland, S.J. McCune, Daniel Whiston and Tara Lucy.
Kathryn Briggs.

Our first collected volume is now available to buy in print from our website, it will soon be joined by the second collection. - slicedquarterly.bigcartel.com

For a limited time we are still operating an open submissions policy. Guidelines are on our website - slicedquarterly.co.uk/submissions

Ken Reynolds currently lives and works in Ipswich along with his lovely (tolerant) wife and beautiful daughter.

He has lettered for many independent publishers and creators, including upcoming work for Grayhaven Comics, Insane Comics & Arcana. He was proud to be part of the lettering team that completed the 750+ page epic that is 'The Explorers' Guild' by Jon Baird, Kevin Costner and Rick Ross. He also writes the Kickstarter funded comic 'Cognition', a supernatural noir adventure story.
